AutoAlert Fall Detection

AutoAlert works with multiple sensors embedded in a powerful microprocessor that is always on and always ready. When a person goes about their daily routine, whether it's sitting, going up and down the stairs or lying down, AutoAlert is registering their activity and movement. AutoAlert uses patented technology that constantly measures changes in height orientation to a horizontal position and velocity. When a fall occurs, AutoAlert recognizes the difference between everyday movements and a fall*. It calls for help automatically.

AutoAlert is an option for our HomeSafe subscribers, and included for our On the Go subscribers.
